ANOTHER CROWD PLEASING PURSE AUCTION!

Stephanie Terry, Suzanne Kempel and Merideth Garrigan enjoy the beautiful evening overlooking Pineapple Fountain at Waterfront Park.

We couldn't do it without our bevy of dedicated volunteers! Left to Right: Holly Fisher, Cathleen Heim, May Wahab, Mary Mallette (staff) and Tina Newton.

We can hardly believe it, but our 8th Annual "It's in the Bag" Silent Purse Auction and Reception was held on Thursday, April 30th. Each year our biggest fundraiser of the year just keeps getting better and better. Artists and other local talent created one hundred gorgeous, cute and clever one-of-a-kind purses for auction.

Jennet Robinson Alterman, Executive Director, remarked, "We are very gratified that during this difficult economic year, the Center for Women was able to raise substantially the same amount of money as last year to continue the work we do for women in this community. Gift certificates from local businesses - all valued at $100 or more - came with every winning purse bid. This certainly helped the overall bidding and made it easier for women to justify their fabulous purchases!"

Our sponsors who gave so generously to make our 2009 Purse Auction a success were: First Federal, Lucey Mortgage, Mass Mutual, Skirt! Magazine, Fork Fine Gourmet Catering and Events, Event Dynamics, Tiger Lily, SC Thrift & Resale and Ashley Hall.

Our "Purse Patrol" and other volunteers who kept all the action moving were: Vicki Pittman, Erin Scheffer, Sloan Woods, Kira Perdue, Kate Clarkson, Karen Izzi, Caroline Boinest, Tanis Jackson, Holly Fisher, Angel Taylor, Lucia Wattrick, MaryEllen Mackinnon, Jill Galmarini, Cathleen Heim, Sara Dwyer, Zelda Grant, Domonique Green, Cathryn Cato, Charlene Harris. Edi Rose, Lesa Underwood, Anna Lassiter, Wanda Wright, May Wahab, Nandini McCauley, Katie McCravy, Virginia Lee, Peg Clarkson, and Ally Janssen.

A NOTE FROM JENNET

"The connections between and among women are the most feared, the most problematic, and the most potentially transforming force on the planet."
Adrienne Rich

Welcome to our first online newsletter. This marks an important milestone in our organizational development as we continue our commitment to providing timely information in a cost effective and environmentally sensitive format. Expect to see a new "CFW Connections" every other month.

Your Center for Women has had a busy 2009 as you can see from the articles. In spite of (or really because of) the economic downturn, we have expanded our programming to offer sessions on everything from making career transitions to finding health insurance after a layoff to individual job counseling. We will continue to offer programs to help the women in our community who have lost jobs, been downsized and/or are getting back into the job market.

This is where the power of connection comes into play. Connecting people is what we do well and that is what sets us apart. Participating in our programs has brought many women the opportunity to find resources and support. Helping women succeed every day is what our mission promises and we deliver on that promise every day.

Our membership is at all time high and the demand for our services is as well. When you become a member of the Center for Women you not only help others but you personally benefit. If you aren't a member, consider joining. It is a modest investment in a powerful network.

Have a great summer!

Jennet

The Women in Business Conference Sells Out!

Sold out! March's 4th annual Women in Business Conference sold out both in registration and exhibit space. Over 300 women came to Power up; get connected, get charged and get informed! The ever-popular speed networking session provided attendees with the chance to meet new resources whether looking for a job or expanding an existing business.

The Women in Business Conference is a joint partnership between the Center for Women and the Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce. It has quickly become one of the area's best-known meetings for serious, genuine networking opportunities for both attendees and exhibitors.

The Center for Women received two wonderful awards this year. PAR - People Against Rape - awarded us their "Outstanding Victim Service Program" for our referral services and community co-operation to assure that abused women receive the proper care and treatment they need.

The Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce selected us for their prestigious "1773 Award" in the Public/Non-profit category for an organization that exemplifies the Chamber's core values of leadership, relevance, integrity, diversity and innovation. We are proud of the contributions we have made to the community and are pleased to be recognized by the Chamber for our leadership on women's issues.

Comfortable couches, a beautiful sunny day and watching world class tennis from a sky suite. Life doesn't get any sweeter than this! If you look hard, you can see Venus Williams (in purple) serving.

Member Day Luncheon at Family Circle Cup a Winner

For the fourth straight year in a row, the Center for Women was selected as Family Circle Cup's "Charity of Choice". The objectives of both organizations are to encourage and promote women's excellence and success. CFW volunteers and staff spent nine very busy days at the April tennis tournament on Daniel Island selling programs and participating in other events to raise money for our programs and services.

Every year, Family Circle Cup has invited us to use their sky suite for a Member Day Luncheon. This is a rare treat and the only way anyone can buy an individual ticket to a sky suite event!

Members and guests were treated to a drop in visit by French tennis player and 6th seed, Marion Bartoli (far right).

CFW intern, Ally Janssen, and volunteer, Vicki Pittman, encourage passer-bys to purchase tournament programs to raise money for the CFW.
